GET READY TOGETHER

Christmas Visitors

At Christmas, some people might visit our house. Or we might visit them.

There may be more talking, more noise and more food than usual. That's okay.

I can say hello in my own way. If I need a break, I can go to my quiet spot.

After Christmas, our usual days will come back.

Who is coming?

Draw each person, or stick on a photo. Write their name underneath.

I can say hello by

- [ ] Wave
- [ ] Smile
- [ ] Say hello
- [ ] High five
- [ ] Stay close to a grown up
- [ ] Something else: _____

If I need a break

My quiet spot is _____

Cut out a card to show a grown up.

I need a break

Ear break

Quiet time

GET READY TOGETHER

My Present Plan

Presents can be exciting. They can also feel like a lot.

Some surprises feel fun. Some don't. It's okay to want to know what is inside.

If I don't like a present, I can say "thank you", or I can smile. A grown up can help me.

I'd like to open presents

- [ ] Before breakfast
- [ ] After breakfast
- [ ] After lunch
- [ ] Later, by myself

My presents can be

- [ ] Easy to open paper
- [ ] A gift bag
- [ ] No wrapping
- [ ] I like surprises
- [ ] I would like to know what is inside first

After presents, I might need

- [ ] Quiet time
- [ ] Play with one new thing
- [ ] A snack and a drink
- [ ] A walk or some jumping

Let's count

I opened _____ presents.

I gave _____ presents.

My favourite was _____

For grown ups. Tell visitors your child's plan before the day. Gift bags or loose wrapping make opening easier for small or tired hands.

Draw a present I would love

What shape is it? What colour is it?
